

Michele's speech title is "Shut Up! You Don't Get A Lawyer: From TSA Groping to Indefinite Detention of Americans, Your Constitutional Rights Are Under Attack"

Tidbits to be covered in speech:

- The so-called Underwear Bomber (the pretext for radiating and taking naked body scans of Americans without due process) was put on the plane over the vehement objections of the airline by an official with an unnamed U.S. government agency, according to Undersecretary of State Patrick Kennedy. (<http://tinyurl.com/3fjkxtb>)
- Michael Chertoff, former head Department of Homeland Security, profits from the sale of the scanners. (<http://tinyurl.com/75or5x2>)
- TSA admits that the radiation machines, which many experts believe are unsafe, provide no greater level of security than the metal detectors.

More details: Two lawyers were on the plane with the underwear bomber, and have a compelling story:

<http://www.baldyandtheblonde.com/2011-february.html> (Michele Gaudin's first radio interview of attorney Kurt Haskell, eye-witness to Underwear Bomber being allowed on the plane over the airline's objections; 2-9-2011)

<http://www.baldyandtheblonde.com/2011-october.html> (Michele Gaudin's second radio interview of attorney Kurt Haskell; 10-19-2011)

---

Michele Gaudin is a past-president of the AWA. She is a general litigator representing injured plaintiffs, and also handles professional-licensing defense, criminal defense, and corporate defense. She was selected for the 2011 Inaugural Edition of the Martindale-Hubbell Bar Register of Preeminent Women Lawyers, for women attorneys who have received "the highest possible rating in both legal ability and ethical standards" from their peers, and has also been selected as a "Top Lawyer" in litigation by New Orleans magazine. Michele also is co-host of the radio show "Baldy and The Blonde," which airs every Wednesday from 5:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. on WGSO 990AM, where liberty is topic Number One. She has interviewed a wide range of high-profile guests, including Congressman Ron Paul, Judge Andrew Napolitano, Journalist Becky Akers (vocal and funny critic of TSA), Senator Rand Paul, Senator Walter Jones, political commentator Pat Buchanan, and many others.